Roma, 22 September 2022 – The ACEA Group, again this year, is a partner of the Rome Film Fest, which will take place from 13 to 23 October at the Auditorium Parco della Musica and in other venues of the Capital.

The festival, now in its 17th edition, confirms itself as one of the most important film festivals at an international level, but above all one of the most popular events in the city. Compared to the latest editions, an international competition entitled "Progressive Cinema" will be introduced. There will also be other out-of-competition sections such as "Freestyle", which will host titles with a free style and format, from TV series to music videos, from films to video art.

For more than 110 years, the ACEA Group has always collaborated with the most prestigious cultural institutions of Rome and of the territories in which it operates. With the support to the Rome Film Fest, the Group renews its desire to support all the initiatives and events that enhance the Capital City of Italy through strategic sectors for the Italian economy such as culture, art and cinema.
